

NOVEMBER 10TH

Reuniting with old friends, making fresh connections, and soaking up new ideas at the 2024 SC HSE Conference was a blast! Everyone received the VIP treatment with free parking and Wi-Fi, plus a golden opportunity for some holiday shopping at Myrtle Beach's fabulous stores and outlets.

We kicked things off on Sunday night with:

- ~Early Registration,
 - Hors D'oeuvres, HOSA, HSE and HSEA/NCHSE Updates
 - ~Early Bird- "Hands On Body Systems - "The Skin You are In" with the fabulous Starla Ewan!
- And just like that, we wrapped up the night at 9 PM!

An exhilarating blend of enthusiasm and learning, all compressed into one incredible day!

Teaching Tips

“Lots of take aways from the conference this year! As always Starla never disappoints and Dr. Bone was amazing. Looking forward to reading her book!”

“This was my first time with Starla and it was amazing!!”

Monday morning began with a stunning view of the ocean from the Embassy dining room, where everyone enjoyed a hearty breakfast alongside fellow teachers. After breakfast, everyone headed to the conference hall for a day filled with knowledge!

The day kicked off with a warm welcome and announcements from our SC ACTE/HSE President, Anna Snipes, leading into an inspiring Session 1, with our keynote speaker, Dr. Bone, who captivated us with “Buffers, Boundaries, and Balance”.

Next, we had the opportunity to network during our break with Exhibitors, Carolina Training, was our partial break sponsor!

Session 2, “Every Role in Healthcare Counts: New Resources for Educators, Students, and Partners,” presented by Lara Hewitt from the SC Hospital Association.

Session 3, provided insights into “Pharmacy Technician Certification” with Lucia Watson

Session 4, Greg Newcomb guided us on how to “Master the Language of Medicine.”

At 12:30 a delicious Awards Luncheon was enjoyed by everyone, partially sponsored by Dean Vaughn.

Session 5, covered “EMS Updates and Training” with Hank Hill, along with some important “Medical Assisting” updates from Anna Snipes.

Session 6, Introduced us to “NHA Learning Solutions for Pharmacy Technician Programs” with Tammy Stine, followed by another refreshing Afternoon Break with our Exhibitors, partially sponsored by the National Healthcareer Association. We concluded the day with Session 7, “Hands-On Body Systems: Cardiovascular & Respiratory,” led by Starla Ewan. What an incredibly insightful day it turned out to be!

SC ACTE HEALTH SCIENCE EDUCATION AWARDS

At our awards luncheon held on Monday afternoon, the executive committee provided opening remarks and shared important announcements. We had a wonderful turnout with passionate Health Science Cluster teachers gathered to honor our division award recipients.

- Teacher of the Year: Hank Hill, J Harley Bonds Career Center
- Teacher Educator of the Year: Kerry Hatcher, Anderson Institute of Technology
- Business-Education Partnership Award: Ashley Shannon, MUSC Lancaster Division

LAST DAY OF THE CONFERENCE kicked off with another delicious breakfast at the Embassy dining room, followed by the last announcements from our SC ACTE/HSE President, Anna Snipes!

Session 8 brought us “Mixed Reality and Artificial Intelligence in Medical Training” with the engaging Stewart Rodeheaver.

Next up, Session 9 had us diving into Hands On Body Systems, learning with "On Your Mark, Get Set, Teach" led by the fabulous Starla Ewan!

We then enjoyed a mingling break with our exhibitors, and final check-out arrangements made.

Session 10 showcased “Technology in the Classroom” with the tech-savvy Karen Edwards, followed by an SC ACTE Business Meeting in Session 11, where new officers were elected for the 2025 year!

Session 12 had us zooming in with Deanna Ingram for “uBEATS,” proving distance can’t stop great ideas!

We wrapped up with a working lunch featuring a final Q & A before diving into our fun raffle, where all proceeds will go towards Health Science Student Scholarships!

And to top it all off, every attendee got a copy of Dr. Bone’s “Brain Tips” as a delightful parting gift—what a way to end the conference!
